Fortress Gibraltar in the Eighteenth Century

The beginning of the century saw the fortress being weakly defended by Spain and in August 1704 it was captured by an Anglo-Dutch fleet commanded by Admiral Rooke. Within a few months Gibraltar underwent the first of the many sieges it would successfully resist that century.

In 1729 Landport Gate became the sole means of entry into Gibraltar from the land side while its sea approach was guarded by a number of bastions. One of the most notable inventions of war made during this period was the Depressing gun carriage by Wt. G. F. Koehler R. A., while serving in Gibraltar, in 1782.
