Carrier Service was first established by the Louisville Post Office about 1854, with one carrier. David B. Wharton, appointed a carrier in 1856, issued an adhesive stamp in 1857, but as he was soon thereafter replaced in the service, it is not believed that any of these stamps were used. Brown & McGill, carriers who succeeded Wharton, issued stamps in April, 1858.

years ago and four years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, constituted and dedicated ion that men all men are created indivisible, that nation or any man is conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.
We are now on a great better field of that war. We have dedicated a portion of that land to resting place of those here gave their lives that nation might live. It is also gathered its long and proper that we should do this. But in a long, ardent, we cannot dedicate - we cannot conse-
rate - we cannot hallow - this ground. The brave men, living and dead
struggled here, have secured it for above our poor power to add or detract. The world will follow our long ber, what we say here, but can never forget what they here. It is for us the living, that dedicated here to
to the they who so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated - in the great task remaining before us - that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion. - that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain - that the nation, under God, shall here have a new birth of freedom - and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth. This address was delivered at the dedication of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, No-ber 19, 1863. This speech is admired by all.
